1. Linkage between the development and the Central Avenue MetroLink Station, if one does not currently exist.
2. Leadership in energy and environmental design (LEED) certification from the U.S. Green Building Council at a minimum "Certified" level including applicable regional priorities or an equivalent certification from a nationally recognized third (3rd) party verified organization as determined by the Plan Commission.
3. City streetscape consistent with the City of Clayton's streetscape standards.
4. Greenspace/urban gathering areas open to the street and proportionate to the development size and scope.
